THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 3d day of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominee of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON, Chairman.
THOMAS B. KEOGH, Secretary.

Congress makes its bow to the country to-day.

Dr. Garcelon should bury his Pills, and not let his Pills-bury him.

Mr. Tilden discovers that while the Democratic party is badly stuck in Maine, it is a good time to say nothing.

Though I am only a country doctor with a small practice, I am wiser than the Supreme Court and bigger than the Constitution.—Garcelon.

It is said that Emperor William, of Germany, has ordered that the $50,000 collected on the occasion of his golden wedding, be distributed among the famine-stricken Silesians.

It will be some consolation to Garcelon to know that he is as notorious for cheek and stealing, as Grant is famous for common sense and modesty. He wants to be even with Grant in some way.

There is not much danger of "civil war" in Maine. The Democrats tried the experiment once of getting up a war, and it proved so disastrous to the party that they will not repeat the experiment.

The three prominent questions that will come before the Legislature this winter will be the interest bill, capital punishment and biennial sessions. Aside from these there will be no very important questions come up.

The coinage of gold at the United States mints for December, foots up $93,889 pieces, with a value of $6,478,000. There were 127,000 double-eagles; 330,740 eagles; 126,920 half eagles; 3,000 three-dollar pieces; 1,200 quarter eagles; and 3,000 one-dollar pieces.

Will some Northern Democratic papers whose editors think they are bigger than Grant, give their opinion on the Grant receptions in the South? His orations there are on the boom, and the ex-Confederates are not much behind their Northern friends in greeting the General. This may annoy the Bourbons of the North, but it can't be helped.

The arrival in this country of Mr.
Charles Stewart Parnell, a member of the English House of Commons, and an agitator of considerable influence and ability, is creating a great deal of enthusiasm in the East, and especially in New York city, where he spoke to an audience of between 8,000 and 10,000 on Sunday night. This was a very large audience when it is considered that each person present paid from fifty cents to one dollar for the privilege of hearing the Irish orator. We doubt if any other man in or out of Parliament, could have come to this country and called together as large an audience as did Mr. Parnell especially when quite a heavy admission fee was charged. There are a great many who will ask "What is Mr.
Parnell's errand?" The stated purpose of his mission is to raise money for the suffering in Ireland, and the reason he charged an admission fee on Sunday night was that funds might be raised with which to relieve some of the distressed poor in that country. The mission of Mr. Parnell seems to be righteous enough if we take his side of the story for the truth. But there are those who do not consider him an unselfish patriot, and say the role he has adopted is not such an one as becomes a man of his station and ability. Still, Mr. Parnell is on American soil, and he is entitled to a fair hearing, and he will receive it. The chief objections to his mission—not his visit—are: First, that to come here and attempt to instruct the American people on Home Rule in Ireland, is an act of supercilious benevolence.
Second, that it is not common sense for Mr. Parnell to leave his post in another country to make converts three thousand miles away, if he wanted nothing from them but sympathy. Third, that there is not that great distress in Ireland which Mr.
Parnell would make his hearers believe, and that to raise money for "the starving poor," is a thin excuse, when no steps have been taken in England or even Ireland, to obtain money for such a purpose; and the Catholic clergy of New York city, who above all other persons in this country should understand the condition of the poor in Ireland, refused a few days ago to collect money for "the starving poor" as they claimed the movement was premature. The fourth objection to Mr. Parnell's movement in America, and it is as well to state that the objection from a great many intelligent Catholics, is that he comes in part to solicit money to sus-tain what is called the "Home Rule," and those who chiefly support Mr. Parnell in this movement are men of Fenian principles. These are some of the objections to his mission. Whether or not they are well founded, every man who can read must be his own judge.

There should be some change in the land laws in this country. The present system is admirable in many respects, and there is a good deal of truth in the saying that the landlords are "sucking the life blood" out of the poorer class of the Irish people.
The time has come when there should be a reform.

THE GOVERNOR'S STAFF.

MADISON, Jan. 6.—Governor Smith, as commander-in-chief of the State militia, yesterday, issued the following:
STATE OF WISCONSIN,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
MADISON, January 5, 1880.
General Order—No. 1.
The staff of the commander-in-chief is announced as follows:
Brigadier General Edwin E. Bryant, Adjutant General.
Brigadier General George E. Bryant, Quartermaster General.
Brigadier General Erasmus B. Woolcott, Surgeon General.
Colonel George W. Burchard, Aid-de-camp and Military Secretary.
Colonel Florian J. Ries, Aid-de-camp.
Colonel Jerome A. Watson, Aid-de-camp.
Colonel George T. Tamm, Aid-de-camp.
Colonel Nicholas Smith, Aid-de-camp.
They will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

WILLIAM E. SMITH,
Governor.

THE RECEPTION.

MADISON, Jan. 5.—This evening the reception and ball is in progress in the capitol building, which is ablaze with light from base to dome. The guests began to arrive at eight o'clock entering by the east door, and were escorted to the Executive and Secretary of State's offices, which have been converted into dressing rooms for the occasion. After divesting themselves of superfluous garments they were shown through the main hallway to the north stairway. In the rotunda, which is brilliantly lighted, is a fountain imbedded in plants and flowers. The effect is very beautiful. There are no other decorations here save a few simple evergreens.

The reception is held in the Assembly Chamber. All you have to do is to squeeze your way in and then squeeze the Governor by the hand. At 10 o'clock the last shake was shook, and a half hour later the floor was ready for dancing, that is canvas had been stretched over it. The orchestra that had been blowing for dear life since 8, now take a new start, and the room is soon filled with gay young people.

In the Senate chamber dancing was inaugurated an hour earlier, and at the hour of 11 both presented a coruscation of youth and beauty. The lobbies are also well peopled with dancing young souls, now that most of their elders have retired, and an enterprising restaurateur is driving a flourishing trade in the next wing. In short, jolly scenes are being passed throughout the length and breadth of the dingy buildings, made brilliant for the nonce by the bright eyes and toilets of some of Wisconsin's first and best.

SUDDEN DEATH.

The Death of Dr. E. B. Woolcott, of Milwaukee—A Sketch of His Busy Life—An Able Physician and Surgeon and an Accomplished Gentleman.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 5.—Surgeon General Erasmus B. Woolcott, one of the most eminent surgeons and physicians in Wisconsin, died shortly before 10 o'clock to-night, after a short illness, of pneumonia. Gen.
Woolcott was born at Benton, Yates county, N. Y., October 13, 1831. He was a lineal descendant of Henry Woolcott, who came from England to America in 1830, and who was the first magistrate of Connecticut, and also of Governor Oliver Woolcott, the signer of the Declaration of Independence. He began his medical studies in 1852 and received his diploma from the Yates County Medical society in 1855. In 1855 he was appointed surgeon in the United States army. In 1856 he was married to Miss Elizabeth J. Dausman, and in 1858 he moved to Milwaukee and began to practise his profession here. He immediately assumed a prominent position and was appointed surgeon general of Wisconsin state militia in 1866. In 1860 his wife died leaving him two children. During

POWDER.

LA CROSE, Jan. 5.—Last night, August Talbot, a quarryman, bought a five-pound can of powder down stairs and placed it on a table near a lighted lamp. In a few moments a terrible explosion occurred, and seven persons, who were sitting around the table were badly burned. They were Talbot and two sons. Chris Westfield and his wife and their ten year old son and a lady who was sitting badly and are in desperate circumstances.

SUPPLY OF COIN.

New York, Jan. 5.—Specie importations for the week ending the 2d are $407,977.
Weekly returns make a total of over $32-200,495 for the entire year 1879, against $19,150,973, officially reported for 1878.
Taking into account the specie imported and product of the mints, there is in the country probably fully $125,000,000 more coin than a year ago.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

WAUSAU, Jan. 5.—A fatal accident occurred to Thomas Jones on Friday. In attempting to dislodge a tree it fell, catching him across the back, injuring the spine so that the lower extremities were entirely paralyzed. At last accounts he was just alive, but no hopes were entertained of his recovery.

PRESIDENTIAL TALK.

The Solid South Changing Front and Pronouncing for Grant.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Richmond Dispatch says: "Dr. G. W. Dagby is out in a long, interesting and well-written letter to the Charleston News and Courier, in which he advocates the nomination of General Grant by the South, or, rather, we suppose we should say, he recommends that she shall, for political reasons, regard his election as predestined, and make all the capital she can by aiding to render his election as nearly unanimous as possible. The Doctor has no fears that a term will be put to a permanent conspiracy of the White House." Judge Lochrane, of Georgia, is in the city. In conversation he announces himself a Grant man, saying that Grant, as a candidate, would tend to split up the solid South and sectional politics.

POOR GARCELON.

How the National Republican Leaders Went Back on Him.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 4.—The decision of the Supreme Court in favor of the Republicans has caused a feeling of gloom among the Democrats and Greenbackers throughout the State to-day. On nearly every hand Garcelon is denounced by Democrats and Fusionists, many of whom express the opinion that he should be hung to the nearest lamp post.

Among the most knowing leaders it was declared that Garcelon, after taking his first stand, was made a dupe by Blackburn and others of the National Democratic Committee at Washington. It is well known that General Anderson, an old-time Democrat of this State, went to Washington a short time since, and had a conference with prominent Democratic leaders. It was represented to him that the Democratic party of this country must not be held responsible for Garcelon's action, as it would hurt the chances of success of the Presidential candidates of the party next fall. It was suggested to him further that some means should be taken to throw the responsibility for the Governor's action on the shoulders of his counselors, who were really the representatives of the Greenback party. It is hinted further that several Republican leaders had a knowledge of this proposition, and thought favorably of it; and finally Anderson returned home with the desire of the National Committee in his pocket. The same was presented to Garcelon, with a further suggestion that the prettiest way for the party to back down was for the Governor to leave the matter to the Supreme Court. Morrill's proposition to the effect came a day or two after in accordance with a programme arranged in Washington.

MAINE.

Lively Times at the State Capitol.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 5.—The city presents a lively appearance to-day, owing to the presence of a large number of persons in attendance on the opening of the Legislature. Notwithstanding the peculiar condition of affairs, and the deep interest throughout the State, the number present does not greatly exceed that usual on the first day of the opening week. To-morrow and next day will probably bring large crowds.

It has been difficult to obtain a definite idea of the condition of affairs, both parties being very reticent. All members elect and counted in have not arrived yet, and just how many on either side cannot be ascertained at night.

The Fusionists held a meeting to-night, but nothing is known of the action thereat.
It is given out that the Governor and Council, acting under the advice of A. P. Gould, who had been their attorney through, have decided to pay no attention to the decision of the Supreme Court otherwise than to submit it to the Legislature for their information and advice. No certificates issued will be recalled, and none issued to citizens from which they have been withheld.

The members-elect counted out applied to Governor Garcelon to-day for certificates, and were denied in accordance with the above programme. From all that can be learned the Fusionists propose to organize the Legislature with whatever members they can control regardless of the legal quorum—sixteen in the Senate and seventy-six in the House, as laid down by the Supreme Court. Thomas M. Russell is spoken of as the probable speaker of the Fusion House.

A PECULIAR CASE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 5.—Edward C. Mc-Intosh, the former manager of the Indiana National bank, who left the city some months ago, it was believed, a defaulter in a considerable amount, returned this morning and gave himself up, saying he was an embezzler of the bank's funds, and wanted an investigation. At the same time the bank officers said that he had less than $50 of the bank's money in his possession, and now decline to say anything, or to prefer charges, as Mason is held simply for responsibility. It is a strange case. In a letter received recently and published in the papers, Mason said he was in debt to the bank to a considerable amount.

old-time Democrat of this State, went to
conference with prominent Democratic leaders. It was represented
to him that the Democratic party of this country must not be held responsible for Garcelon's action, as it would
hurt the chances of success of the Presidential candidates of the party next fall. It
means should be taken to throw the responsibility for the Governor's action on the shoulders of his counselors, who were
really the representatives of the Greenback party. It is hinted further that several Republican leaders had a knowledge
of this proposition, and thought favorably
of it; and finally Anderson returned home
with the desire of the National Committee in his pocket. The same was presented to Garcelon, with a further suggestion that
matter to the Supreme Court. Morrill's proposition to the effect came a day or two
after in accordance with a programme arranged in Washington.

MAINE.

Lively Times at the State Capitol.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 5.—The city presents a lively appearance to-day, owing to the presence of a large number of persons in attendance on the opening of the Legislature. Notwithstanding the peculiar condition of affairs, and the deep interest
throughout the State, the number present
does not greatly exceed that usual on the first day of the opening week. To-mor-
large crowds.

It has been difficult to obtain a definite
idea of the condition of affairs, both parties
being very reticent. All members elect
and counted in have not arrived yet, and
just how many on either side cannot be ascertained at night.

The Fusionists held a meeting to-night,
but nothing is known of the action thereat.
It is given out that the Governor and Council, acting under the advice of A. P. Gould, who had been
their attorney through, have decided to
pay no attention to the decision of the Supreme Court otherwise than to submit it to the Legislature for their information and advice. No certificates issued will be recalled, and none issued to citizens from which they have been withheld.

The members-elect counted out applied
to Governor Garcelon to-day for certificates,
learned the Fusionists propose to organize the Legislature with whatever members
quorum—sixteen in the Senate and seventy-
six in the House, as laid down by the Supreme Court. Thomas M. Russell is spoken of as the probable speaker of the Fusion House.

A PECULIAR CASE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 5.—Edward C. Mc-Intosh, the former manager of the Indiana National bank, who left the city some months
ago, it was believed, a defaulter in a considerable amount, returned this morning and gave himself up, saying he was an embezzler of the bank's funds,
and wanted an investigation. At the same time the bank of-
the bank's money in his possession, and
charges, as Mason is held simply for responsibility. It is a strange case. In a letter received recently and published in the pa-
bank to a considerable amount.

BRIEFLETS.

—Moist morning.
—W. B. Stoddard. A girl. Ten pounds. Hurrah!

—The public schools are to open again next Monday.
—Rev. Mr. Jones and family have returned from their Iowa visit.
—The Russell assault case, is taking a rest until to-morrow.

—Dave Patterson is languishing in jail two days for being drunk.

—It is expected that the Janesville Guards will go to Rockford on the 23d of next month.

—Mr. A. Hoskins, who for three months past has been quite sick, is able to be out again. Good.

—Hon. William Wall, of Oshkosh, a member of the present Assembly, was in the city to-day.

—The Sack Company hold their annual election this evening, and all members are expected to be present at the balloting.

—Andrew J. Wadsworth, one of the oldest conductors on the St. Paul road, was a welcome caller at the Gazette office this afternoon.

—A Milwaukee telegram states that the residence of A. M. Thomson was entered by burglars and robbed of silver plate valued at $300.

—Frank D. Wilson, of Oconto, is spending a few days in the city. He is now dealing in cedar posts and railroad ties, and seems to be thriving.

—The same committee of the Temple of Honor, who arranged for the anniversary exercises, have been instructed to arrange for another entertainment on the 27th of this month.

—Mrs. Mattie A. Bridge is to be the guest of Mrs. J. D. King until next week. On Tuesday evening next she is to deliver a lecture at Lippin's Music hall on "Human Freedom." Last night she lectured at Elkhorn, and arrived in this city this afternoon.

—Rev. J. T. Chynoweth and wife, of Wausau, were in the city yesterday, and remained a few hours with friends. Mr. Chynoweth's health being rather poor, he is making arrangements to open a printing office in Oshkosh, and rest from public labor for a time.

—"Dr. E. W. Beebe successfully extracted a cataract, three tarsal tumors and a polypus of the ear, on Saturday last while here on a professional visit."—Richland Co. Observer, Richland Center, Dec. 25th, 1879. Consult him at the Myers' house to-morrow from 12 to 5.

—M. C. Fish left, this morning, to enter the employ of the Rockford Watch Company. He has for eight years past been in the employ of Webb & Hall, and has stuck closely to business. He has many friends in social circles here, who will wish him the best of success, though regretting that business should call him from the city.

—The union prayer meeting at the Baptist church, yesterday afternoon, was more largely attended than was expected by the most sanguine, there being about sixty present. These meetings will be continued at the same place each day this week, commencing at 3 o'clock p. m., and closing at 4 o'clock, led by the several pastors of the city.

—The entertainment to be given at Lippin's Music hall next Monday evening under the management of Mrs. S. R. Noon will be one worthy of a large attendance. It will be of a musical and literary nature, and will be followed by a dance. Mrs. Noon is about closing her labors here, and this will be the last entertainment. She has done a good work, and done it well, and the public will be glad of this opportunity of showing their appreciation of it. Aside from all such considerations the entertainment will be of marked merit and attractiveness.

—The billboards are being decorated with a brilliant showing of the fun and frolic of minstrelsy, in announcement of the coming of Haverly's troupe, who are to be at the Opera house next Friday evening. It is enough to know that Haverly is the proprietor. He has never sent here a slim show or a mediocre one, and the amusement lovers have learned this, so that the simple announcement that he is to send a bundle of jolly minstrelsy to liven up an evening, will be enough to cause the seats to sell rapidly. The diagrams are already open at Moseley's, and those desiring good seats should hasten to check them off.

—Tonight there will be a promenade concert at Cannon's hall under the direction of Prof. T. S. Boston. This will be somewhat of a novelty here, and will prove a most happy way of passing the evening hours. The first portion of the evening will be given over to concert music and promenade, and the later numbers to dancing. No one knows how to manage an affair of this kind better than he who has this under his direction, and it will doubtless prove fully as enjoyable as is expected. Nothing will be left undone to make the enjoyment of each and all complete, and may will improve this opportunity to crowd pleasure into the passing hours.

—TRAVELERS, stop at the Astor House, New York.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at 6 o'clock last evening stood at 48 degrees above; at 1 o'clock a. m., to-day at 47 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a. m., at 46 degrees above, at 1 o'clock p. m., at 45 degrees above. Clearing weather.

The indications to-day are, for the lake region, easterly winds, veering to warmer southerly, and over the upper lakes possibly cooler westerly, falling barometer, cloudy and rainy weather.

THE FOGARY CASE.

In the Circuit Court this morning the case of Mrs. Fogarty was called up again, and it was decided to send it to Walworth county. This was what was expected at the time the change of venue was granted some weeks ago. The trial will probably be held next month.

HOME AGAIN.

The Janesville Guards Return with Fresh Honors Won at Madison.

Today noon the Janesville Guards returned from Madison, accompanied by the Bower City Band. The same train also brought to the city the Sheboygan Guards and the Oshkosh Guards, who remained here only until the arrival of the northward bound train, to which their cars were attached, and they then rolled away homeward again. The showing of military in and about the depot and on the main streets was a gay one, for an hour or so, the militia men scattering in different directions as best suited the fancy of each.

The Janesville Guards won much honor for themselves yesterday. Our regular Madison correspondent in his special yesterday, unintentionally conveyed a wrong impression as to this. In the march the Madison company did attract marked attention as stated in the telegram, and justly so. Their tall numbers, and the attractive appearance of their rich new uniforms, together with a precision in marching, which was wonderful for a company so recently organized, won for them many high tributes of praise. Later in the day, however, the Janesville Guards went through a fancy drill, and by this they won for themselves the highest praise, and called out the wildest enthusiasm. It surprised all, except those who had seen the company before, and the rapidity and accuracy with which they executed the various and complicated movements, caused the crowd to cheer and cheer again. No such military expertness was expected, and there were none who care to enter into friendly competition, or subject themselves to comparison in the line of fancy work.

The Chicago Times says: "In the drill and parade of the militia old soldiers accord the highest honor to the Janesville Guard, and for appearance the Lake City Guard, of this city comes in for praise."

The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "Great proficiency was exhibited by all of the companies, especially so by the Janesville Guards in their fancy drill and bayonet exercise, and the Lake City Guards, Captain Chapman, who have only been organized since last September."

The Bower City Band gave some of its best music, and attracted general attention. It is acknowledged to be one of the best musical organizations in the State, and having won its position by merit, keeps it firmly. Janesville can well feel proud at being represented by such bodies as the Guards and the Bower City Band.

The Madison Democrat also adds its tribute to the Janesville company. It says: "There was not what might be termed a competitive drill, as we understand it. But of course judges in military tactics had to give their private opinions, and a very great majority of them set down the Janesville Guards as the best drilled company, and the Lake City, of Madison, as the best company in appearance—its uniform drew particular attention."

A MANGLED HAND.

A young man named Weccott, son of W. B. Weccott, met with a bad accident early this morning. He is one of the night force at the cotton factory, and while at work as usual about 5 o'clock, his hand got caught in one of the cards, and before it could be extricated, the flesh and tendons had been terribly mangled and torn off. Dr. Palmer was called upon, and succeeded in dressing the wounded member without amputation, and is in hope of saving the hand, though it is terribly torn to pieces.

As the best remedy for Frost Bitten Feet, commend the use of St. Jacob's Oil.

THE SHOW TO-NIGHT.

To-night at the Opera house will appear the Rentz-Santley company. They will bring fun for all. The Hartford Daily Courant says:

Melanie Rentz's Minstrel's gave a novel and attractive entertainment at the Opera house last evening to a full house. The ballads in the minstrel show were all sweetly rendered, and well deserved the accolade they received. The Misses Lee and Mortimore have very excellent voices, while the jokes and comicities of Benedict and Wilson's end-men kept the audience in a continual roar. Hattie Forrest and Nellie Richards are pleasing and attractive vocalists, while the trapeze performance of Miss Levine was graceful and daring. Fanny Florence did an excellent song and dance. The burlesque of "Pinafore" introduced the burlesque star Mabel Santley. The costumes were very brilliant. The ladies are very attractive and the performance cannot fail to give satisfaction wherever they appear.

Sensible Canadian.

Mr. Gadbois, of Brockville, Canada, after being cured of a prostrating malarial disease contracted in Texas, by means of Warner's Safe Pills and Safe Bitters, wrote to us: "I shall never travel in that climate without your Safe Pills and Safe Bitters as a part of my outfit."

ABOUT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

At the meeting of the Wisconsin Teachers' Association held in Madison last week Prof. Barton, of this city, presented a paper on a subject which is of practical moment to those interested in educational matters. The Journal gives the following synopsis of the paper, which gives the leading points:

A paper was read by Prof. R. W. Burton, of Janesville, entitled "Should the High School be Supplementary to the Common Schools, or as Preparatory to the University or College?" It should be supplementary to the common school—

1. Because it is the natural order.
2. Precedents past and present place it in close rapport.
3. To establish the High School as preparatory to the College, at the State's expense, ignoring the common school, is a perversion of public funds.
4. The preservation of the High School is assured by placing it in sympathy with the common school.

Prof. Burton gave cogent reasons for his conclusions. "Let the position of the High School be in unison with the heart-throbs of the common school."

OAK HILL CEMETERY.

The annual meeting of Oak Hill Cemetery Association will be held at the office of the Secretary, on Tuesday evening, January 6, 1890, at 7:30 o'clock.

J. J. R. PRASE, President.
L. J. BARRONS, Secretary.

CITY CONCERNS.

What was Done with Them and for Them by the Fathers Last Evening.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held last evening, President Davies in the chair, and all the members present except Ald. Croft and Robinson.

City Clerk Burgess being absent on account of sickness, C. W. Baker acted in his place. The Journal of the last meeting was read and approved, and a number of bills and accounts presented and referred.

The December report of the Board of Education was read showing the expenditure of $1,275. Referred. The Police Justice's report for the same month was presented and referred.

Ald. Davies from the Judiciary Committee, reported concerning the disposition of the recent case of fast driving. In accordance with the resolution passed by the Council he had consulted with Ald. Robinson and with the City Attorney, and had found that the suit had grown out of a personal matter between the defendant and Ald. Church, and the Committee had therefore instructed the City Attorney to discontinue the suit.

Ald. Church indignantly denied that he has caused the suit, but insisted that one citizen was no more free to violate law than another, and that after a suit had been commenced it was out of the hands of the Council. It was not the province of the Council to dictate to the Police Court as to how cases should be disposed of. As to this suit, the matter would not be dropped thus, and other suits would be pressed to a hearing.

This theme of talk proved prolific, and several took a share in discussing the subject. It was stated that at the last meeting the City Attorney in reply to a question, stated that if the suit was won, the costs would fall on the city, and that this was not found to be the case. Some comments being made about the City Attorney's opinion, there sprang up an anxious inquiry as to where he was. The President called for him, but in vain. He remarked that it would be well to send the Marshal after him. A voice cried out—"But where's the Marshal?" Sure enough, this official was missing also.

After further talk Ald. Fitzgibbon moved that the report of the Judiciary Committee be adopted. Ald. Vankirk moved that it be received and placed on file. This amendment was put to a vote and lost—Ayes, Barnes, Burns, Vankirk—3. Nays—Church, Cox, Davies, Fitzgibbon, Joyce—5. The original motion was then voted upon and adopted.

Ald. Vankirk presented the usual report of the Finance Committee, which was adopted. The monthly reports of the City Treasurer and the Board of Education were pronounced correct and filed.

Ald. Church presented a resolution instructing the Bridge Committee to contract for three inch white oak plank to plank Milwaukee street bridge, the same to be delivered by the first of April. The resolution was laid over until the next meeting of the Council.

Ald. Davies presented an ordinance authorizing all officers of the peace to make arrests without process in all cases of violation of State and city ordinances. It passed to a second reading, and was laid over under the rules.

Ald. Fitzgibbon moved that the Judiciary Committee be instructed to push the case of the State vs. Hagney. The motion was lost and adjournment was then taken.

THE FOLIO.

The Folio for January, 1890, is a double holiday number. The bill of fare in this excellent publication is always good, but the current number has special attractions. It contains a very striking portrait of Paola Marie, the leading prima donna of the French Opera Troupe. The vocal and instrumental music given with the present number is of a high order of excellence, and will not fail to please the readers of the Folio. One of the best features of this timely publication and one which commends it to the public, is its musical, dramatic, and art news. In these departments it is almost incomparable. The annual subscription is only $1.00, or 15 cents a number. Each number contains a valuable portrait. It is published monthly by White, Smith & Co., 510 Washington street Boston.
